PHYSICIANS TAKE THE LEAD

Joint Hospital Meet Due Here

The drive for a north county public hospital accelerated this week as Daly City, South San Francisco and Pacifica officials set the stage for a joint meeting to concert the efforts of various groups on the project.

Dr. Sanford Marcus, chairman of the Physicians Hospital Committee, headquarters in Westlake, sent letters to all three councils asking each to send a representative to a "harmony" meeting next Thursday night, September 10, 8 p.m., at Colma Intermediate School Library, Market and Hillside boulevard, Daly City. The public is especially invited to participate in the discussions, Marcus pointed out.

Councilman Bob St. Clair, chairman of Daly City's hospital study committee, greeted Marcus' joint meeting proposal with special enthusiasm, declaring that it was his hope that "the entire north county area would have a solid voice in the hospital project."

Mayor Jean Fassler of Pacifica, who has instructed Councilman Donald Miller to attend the session, said Marcus had a "good idea." The lady administrator added she felt the hospital move "thus far has been too much of a political matter and it's time an objective effort is made if we are going to realize any success on this needed facility."

There was no comment on Marcus' letter from Leo Ryan, South San Francisco councilman whose hospital study group hasn't been too interested in coordinating with the Marcus and St. Clair groups. Mayor Fassler, City Auditor Bob Hunter of Daly City, and DC school trustee Tom Noonan are members of Ryan's committee.

Daly City councilmen this week finalized their resolution to the county, asking supervisors to have each mayor appoint one representative to a north county hospital committee and invite one representa-

MAYOR Jean Fassler of Pacifica has appointed Councilman Donald Miller to attend next week's special north county hospital drive "harmony" meeting at Colma Intermediate School Library here. The Physicians Committee of Daly City, headed by Dr. Sanford Marcus, has invited council representatives of DC, South San Francisco and Pacifica to the session in an attempt to solidify the hospital campaign into a concerted effort.

Terms Of Trustees Extended

Though not completely official yet, trustees of both the Jefferson elementary and high school districts will have their terms extended one year due to Governor Pat Brown's signature on Senate Bill No. 742 which calls for four-year instead of three-year trustee terms.

Those receiving an extension and their term expiration dates are: High School Board, James Cooper, 1963; Elementary School Board, Mrs. Anne Eason, 1961; Wayne Douglas and chairman Joe Lewkowitz, 1963.

Other terms will expire as follows:

High School Board: chairman Elio Fontana, 1961, Lyal Ingersoll, 1961, and the replacement for Raymond Whitney who resigned, 1961.

Elementary Board: Frank Verducci and Thomas Noonan, 1961.

Plans of County Superintendent James Tormey are to have three trustees elected one year and two others two years later.

Because the high school board will have four trustees eligible for re-election in 1961, straws will be drawn at that time and one member will run only for a two-year term.

STATE PERSONNEL BOARD AWAITS LIST OF RECOMMENDED MANAGERS

Four of Daly City's five councilmen feel that a minimum salary of $15,000 is essential as a starting point to attract a qualified city manager.

This was resolved Monday night as interim city manager Paul Hupf and the council received a list of 30 California city managers recommended by Howard Gardner, associate director of the League of California Cities.

This list and the $15,000 minimum salary stipulation has been forwarded to Kenneth Byers of the State Personel Board. That agency will sound out and screen candidates for the vacancy here. The 30 highly qualified managers recommended by Gardner will be among those approached by Byers and his staff.

Councilmen here have agreed to pick from the top five men recommended after Byers reports on his board's success in attracting outstanding candidates. Full investigations of each applicant will be made by the council.

Councilman Micheal DeBernardi, who voted against the limit of five men to pick from, stating 10 would "give us more of a choice," Monday night said he thought a minimum salary of $13,800 for George Watts' successor was more practical than the $15,000 approved by the other four councilmen.

Gardner, meeting with the council last week, declared that Daly City, considering its size and "reputation" for changing administrators, would have a difficult time attracting a good city manager if the starting salary were less than $15,000.

Mayor Edward Dennis Monday night emphatically denied

15-Cent Hike For Garbage?

Daly City Scavenger Company is asking for a 15-cent raise in collection rates instead of 20 cents, President Al Sereni and his accountant, Richard Dwyer, told the council Monday night.

Sereni said the 15-cent boost is necessary to meet cost-of-living salary expenses and allow the company to make at least a small profit.

Acting city manager Paul Hupf asked Sereni and Dwyer for more detailed data on the scavengers' assets and expenses, so that the council could weigh the rate increase request with all the facts in mind.

Present garbage rate here is $1.10 a month. Last year Sereni's firm got a 10-cent hike after Sereni verified his presentation with records to prove that without a hike in rates, the firm might go bankrupt.

At present, the Daly City garbage rate is the lowest on the Peninsula and among the lowest of similar-sized Bay Area communities.

CAPITAL OUTLAY BUDGET APPROVAL DUE NEXT MONDAY

Ratification of a half million dollar capital outlay budget for the new fiscal year is the reason for a special meeting of the Daly City Council next Monday night at 75 Wellington avenue.

The council will meet in study session on Thursday night September 10.

Regular council meetings this month are at 8 p.m. on September 14 and 28, according to Paul Hupf, acting city manager.

COST IS BIG FACTOR

Jeff High Decision: Renovate Or Rebuild

Jefferson High School District trustees are still working toward a decision on "what to do and when" at ancient Jefferson High on Mission street.

At Monday's meeting the board asked architect Mario Ciampi for two sets of plans—one for rehabilitation and the other for construction of a new building. Both sets with estimate of costs will be forwarded to the State Allocations Board which will recommend course to follow.

Superintendent Ed Morgan says he believes the two sets of figures will be comparably close. When the district is eligible for state funds to renovate or rebuild Jeff is the big question.

Ciampi stated the project concerns 30,000 square feet of teaching area and 10,000 additional square footage. "This is half the size of the planned Oceana High in Sharp Park and a major undertaking," he commented.

Remodeling, if okayed by the state, would include all of the main building, shop No. 3 (which includes the auto shop), photography department and certain classrooms, and returning the space of the music building to the physical education department.

Ciampi says it is "merely a thought, but if a new building were to be put in, it could possibly be placed in front of the present location of the old

HOMEOWNERS UNHAPPY

Price-Garibaldi Apts. Hearing Looms 'Hot'

Public hearing on the disputed rezoning of lots between Price and Garibaldi streets east of Mission for apartments will be held at the September 14 Daly City council meeting at 75 Wellington avenue, starting at 8 o'clock.

Fifty-six homeowners in the affected area protested the rezoning before the planning commission, but the board unanimously approved the move for apartments.

The throng of homeowners are expected to invade the council chamber en masse September 14 to ask that the area be maintained as residential.

Vandals Clout 23 Westlake Parked Autos

Twenty-three Westlake residents reported break-ins to their autos between Wednesday night and Thursday morning last week.

Police believe juveniles broke the side-wings of the autos and took miscellaneous articles from the cars including an electric shaver, an emply flask, eight shirts, a hat, and other small articles which were in the parked vehicles.

Only one car was reported as being stolen though others were rolled from their original parking places. The stolen auto of James J. Brennan, 185 Northgate avenue, was recovered by police on Westhaven drive.

Other cars rifled belonged to: Ralph Locke, 46 Crestwood drive, apartment 4; Donald Christensen, 320 Lake Merced boulevard; Frank Harms, 38 Oaklawn drive; Richard Mira-

Store Burglar On Hillside Damages More Than The Till

A thief who took only 50 cent pieces for a total of $5.50 from the B&G Market, 584 Hillside boulevard, did $150 worth of damage to the front door between 7 p.m. Thursday and 6:30 a.m. Friday.

Officer William Schumacher and Sergeant Jerry Galindo noticed that the lock on the front door had been forced and notified the Market's owner and clerk, Beatrice R. Woodward, 37, 300 Citrus avenue. She said 11 half dollars were missing but smaller coins were left in the till.

She estimated damage to the door at $150.

Marchbanks Newspapers Present Back-To-School News, Bargains

Bulging enrollments are anticipated in Daly City, Pacifica, South San Francisco and adjacent north county areas as public school and parochial youngsters await the beginning of the new semester.

Marchbanks Publications of Daly City this week presents a special inside "back to school" section, complete with ads on the best classroom buys at local stores and news stories about the individual school districts.

Daly City's 1300 Catholic school students return for the fall semester at Our Lady of Mercy, Our Lady of Perpetual Help and Holy Angels in Colma next week. OLM will greet 500 students, and 400 each will be handled by OLPH and Holy Angels.

Daly City's Westmoor High, Supt. Ed Morgan reports, will open for 1650 pupils on September 14, while Jefferson High in the eastern part of the city will house 1350.

Jefferson Elementary District's 13 schools in the DC area will open the same day when 7284 youngsters answer the opening bell, according to Supt. Richard Foster.

In South San Francisco, Supt. Charles Davis said the unified district will accommodate 8000 elementary pupils and South San Francisco High expects a record 1600 students.

Pacifica's Laguna Salada District elementaries, seven in all, will open their doors to a total of 5200 children, according to Supt. Fred Lucas.

Brisbane's two elementary schools, opening Tuesday, will instruct an estimated 550 students. In Bayshore, three elementary schools expect 600 students all told.

PRELIM PLANS APPROVED ON OCEANA HIGH

Approval of preliminary plans along with site grading and the authorization for final plans was given architect Mario J. Ciampi on the Oceana High School Project by Jefferson High District trustees Monday night.

A reinforced concrete roof for the Sharp Park - located school was recommended originally, but it appears that this is not possible under existing state aid funds, Ciampi told the board.

"I am very pessimistic about whether the reinforced concrete

POLICE TELL SITES

Bike Licensing To Begin Here Tomorrow

Registration of all bicycles will begin this Friday by the Daly City Police Department, Sergeant Henry Sundermann announced today.

All individuals with bikes, under new city ordinance, must register them with the police department. A fee of 50 cents for a license covers the bike owner as long as he uses the bike.

Youngsters registering bikes, Sundermann pointed out, must bring their bikes to the registration centers when they pay the 50 cents licensing fee.

Registration will be conducted this week and next in a special drive. Those who can't register their bikes during this period can do so on Saturdays at Daly City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The bike registration starts this Friday, September 4, when Sundermann will be at Company 4 Firehouse, Peoria and Roosevelt streets, from 9 to 11 a.m. At 12:30 p.m. this Friday, Sundermann will register bikes in the upper level area at Marchbanks Park, until 3 p.m.

Next week, on Tuesday, registration of bikes will be offered at the Associated Station, corner of School and Mission streets, from 9 to 11:30 in the morning, and at the Richfield Station, Southgate and Lake Merced boulevard, from 12:30 to 3 p.m. the same day.

On Wednesday, September 9, Westlake Park will be the site for registrations, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 12:30 p.m. to 3 in the afternoon.

Sundermann said the reason bikes must be brought when youngsters register them is because the police department must stamp each bike with a serial number.

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi initiated the bike licensing as a protective measure for the young riders.

"We have more than 100 lost bikes a year at our headquarters. These can't be returned unless we know exactly whom they belong to. With bikes licensed and serial numbered, this problem is eliminated," Petrocchi explained.

JUHS Trustee Nominations Due Next Week

Jefferson High District's screening committee will meet in the central office next Tuesday night to decide on nominees for the vacancy on the school board.

The opening was created when Coastsider Raymond Whitney, also a member of the San Mateo Junior College District board, moved outside of Pacifica, thus disqualifying him from high school board membership.

Mrs. Howard Dunbar, 93 Fairway drive, Westlake, screening committee chairman, will send two names to County School Superintendent James Tormey, who in turn, will appoint the new trustee.

Other members of the screening committee are: Julian Cohn, 93 Dorcester drive, Westlake; Arthur Worden, 339 Milagra drive, Pacifica; Glen Staley, 1415 Via Aragon, Pacifica; Ruth Wooden, 37 San Francisco avenue, Brisbane, and present trustees Elio Fontana, 102 Alder avenue, Colma, and James Cooper, 116 Avalon drive, Pacifica.

FOSTER REPORTS JEFF ELEMENTARY TRUSTEE AGENDA

Superintendent Richard Foster announces that Jefferson Elementary District school trustees will meet this Thursday night, 8 o'clock, at 48 Park Plaza drive, Westlake, for an action-study meeting.

Action items on the agenda include public hearing on dedication of property along Eastmoor avenue for street purposes, award of a bid to improve Vista Mar School slope drainage, and a contract for pupil insurance.

Asst. Supt. David Shapiro will present an up-to-date report on the district's building projects during the discussion part of the meeting.

Public is invited to study sessions as well as regular meetings of the board, Foster emphasized.

DC Cops Track Down Restaurant Robber

"This is the person; I'll never forget that face," said Winnie Chandler, 170 School street, to police sergeant Charles Terry last Thursday.

Mrs. Chandler picked out the picture of Borden Roy Thompson, alias Borden Roy Anderson, from among five photos, identifying him as one of the three men involved in the March 23, 1957, robbery of $194 from Spudnut's restaurant, 6841 Mission street.

Thompson, a baker, was arrested at his home, 454 Waller street, San Francisco, by Terry. He admitted to Sergeants Bruno Conci and Terry that he participated in the robbery. He was released on $500 bail and is to appear in municipal court Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.

At the time of the robbery of the restaurant, owned by Jan Kruk, 515 Miller street, Sharp Park, Thompson held a .32 automatic pistol on Mrs. Chandler and told her, "Don't get excited, get a paper bag below and give me all your money."

Mrs. Chandler and a cook, William Hill, 139 Vista Grande avenue, had enough to get excited about. In the midst of the theft, after-shocks from the previous day's major quake were shaking the building.

Thompson's two accomplices are still at large, Terry said.

SF Laborer Halted Here On Skyline After Bumpy Ride

Henry A. Olmo, 37, 454 Silliman street, San Francisco, was arrested on a drunk driving charge by Daly City police Saturday at 2 a.m. after he drove over two traffic islands on Skyline boulevard, almost tipping his car.

He was travelling south on Skyline when he went over the two islands and continued his journey with a blown out left tire. Police apprehended him near Westridge avenue. Two passengers in his car were sent home by cab.

A sobriety test was administered at Junipero Serra Hospital. The laborer submitted a $500 surety bond as bail. He is to appear in municipal court tomorrow.

roof would meet state approval," Ciampi stated.

The board decided to "play it safe" by having Ciampi draw plans for a wooden roof. This consideration had to be handled immediately because, as Ciampi commented, the roof determines the rest of the building and it would be a loss of time to draw two separate sets of plans.

Ciampi said the state board also urged the enlargement of the library. The library building was originally planned to house 900 pupils, but the state felt the library should meet the school's maximum expected enrollment of 1200 to 1300 students.

Within two months the board could call for bids for the grading of the site, Superintendent Ed Morgan noted.

Architect Paul Reiter will speak with the Pacifica city manager and city engineer today to determine considerations in the widening of San Mateo and Paloma avenues at the Oceana site.

reports published elsewhere last week that the council had called off a special audit of the city's books, a protective measure in the aftermath of Watts' requested resignation.

Hupf pointed out that accountants Charles Ethel and Leonard Bullis had completed a preliminary audit, aided by Finance Director Joseph Arch, but that a full audit will be necessary.

Watts, appointed city manager here in October last year, was salaried at $13,600 a year. Howard Stites, his predecessor who resigned under pressure, was paid $15,000 per annum.

each from the physicians committee and from the unincorporated areas which lie within the proposed hospital district.

St. Clair said this supervisor-appointed committee would give each city and unincorporated area "fair representation in the campaign and would eliminate the confusion that is apparent thus far because several groups are working independently."

In his meeting-invitation letter to the three city councils, Dr. Marcus said his group "feels that the physicians of the area should take the initiative in exercising at least an advisory role in this project that so vitally concerns the health of this area."

He continued, "There has been an unfortunate lack of liaison between the various parties interested in the development of this program. As this lack of communication and understanding could very well impede the success of such a program, we propose this joint meeting for the purpose of discussing cooperation of all interested groups."

Daly City council men have a study session scheduled next Thursday night and at press time were attempting to ask Marcus to postpone the joint meeting for at least a week.

Swimming Pool For Coast High School Weighed

Jefferson High School District trustees favor sharing the cost of the Terra Nova High School (Linda Mar) swimming pool plans providing the board gets "cooperative consideration" from the city of Pacifica.

Superintendent Ed Morgan said that if Pacifica apporved the drawing of the plans both principles would pay $2400 each in sharing architect Falk and Booth Company's $4800 fee.

Corwin Booth said it would be cheaper for the board to build the pool the sametime as the building rather than by itself, considering that money might be available for this purpose.

In personnel matters, the board accepted the resignation of Donald A. Delbon, Jefferson social studies teacher, who is entering the service. Delbon, of Brisbane, attended Oregon University and graduated from San Francisco State. He planned to make his teaching debut this fall. In 1953 he was selected "All-Northern California Player of the Year" for his basketball excellence at Jefferson High.

The board apporved the hiring of Jess T. Jones as a replacement for Delbon. Jones, a graduate of San Francisco State, majored in social studies and minored in physical education. This will be his first teaching assignment.

Trustees hired Mrs. Gloria Silva as Jefferson High School Counselors' secretary.

In other business, the board approved:

A concrete floor at the gardener's storage shed at Westmoor at a cost not exceeding $425.

The sale of the Santa Maria property, a house at 275 Paloma avenue, Pacifica, to Peter Pereira who submitted an oral bid of $530.25. This is consistent with Oceana High site needs in Sharp Park.

A resolution of intention to sell the James J. Gallagher property, the last of 52 parcels of land under the disposition of the board, at the Oceana site.

Nab SF Saleswoman On Shoplift Charge Here At Walgreens

A San Francisco saleswoman was apprehended at Walgreens Drug Store, 395 South Mayfair avenue, Sunday at 5 p.m. by clerk Robert Talbot, 23, who made a citizen's arrest.

Anna Mae Kellog, 61, 26 Chatham place, San Francisco, was asked to come back into the store after she reportedly walked off with a bottle of patent medicine and a hair net. She paid for one hair net but had two in her possession.

Talbot, leader of the dragnet to get the hairnet, had kept her under surveillance in the store.

The bottle of medicine and the hair net were valued at $2.98 and 20 cents. The woman is to appear before Judge Charles Becker in municipal court this week.

The superintendent said that this was just an idea on Ciampi's part and many other considerations would have to be made before this plan would be weighed seriously.

MATEO COLLEGE OFFERS COURSES IN DRAFTING

To meet the increasing demand in the Peninsula area for technicians, particularly draftsmen, College of San Mateo is inaugurating a two-year program in technical drafting.

Leading to the A. A. degree, the program will enable the student to enlarge his learning in machine, electronic, architecture, and mathematics drafting, as well as associated fields such as machine shop and photogrammetry.

Some class openings for the fall semester are still left for those contemplating work as draftsmen. Full information is available in the College catalogue. On regular registration days, September 10 and 11, counselors will assist students in programming classes for technical drafting.

Basement Burglars On East Moltke Probably Fishing

Jesse A. Combs last week reported that someone had "caught" his fishing gear in the storage room of the basement at 115 East Moltke street.

Combs believes juveniles took $125 worth of equipment including his tackle box, spinning reel and fishing rod. He told Officer Matthew Murray he was asleep in his apartment (No. 2) when the gear was taken.

He noticed that entrance was made through the open basement area and a padlock pried off the front door of the storage room at 6 p.m. Friday night.

Two Teenagers Admit Wave Of Auto Break-ins

A 17-year-old San Francisco boy and 18-year-old Guy E. Allen of 655 San Diego avenue, Daly City, admitted, under questioning, that they had stolen various articles from autos in Broadmoor and the Sunset District areas, according to D.C. police.

Officer Robert Stables said he saw the two boys turn off the lights of the car and slow to a stop at Lincoln avenue near Southgate at 4 a.m. Friday. First they said they were looking for a coffee shop and then told Stables they were having trouble with the car.

After questioning by Sergeant Jerry Galindo they admitted taking the top off a convertible at 803 87th street in Broadmoor and stealing a blanket, polish and a lug wrench from an auto at 708 White street, also Broadmoor. The duo said they had taken a lug wrench from a Daly City auto one block from where Stables stopped them.

Originally charged with violation of curfew laws, they later admitted 12 similar thefts in San Francisco's Sunset District. The graduate of Balboa High and Allen were turned over to Officer Merrill Baxely of the Broadmoor poilce department.

Manber, recently appointed by the Department of California as chief of staff for their respective units, will participate in the celebration. Mrs. Manber and Mrs. C. H. Sachs, trustee, will escort Mrs. Golden on a tour of Palo Alto Veterans Hospital during her stay here. One of the primary functions of the Auxiliary is to help service the hospital.

Commander Katz stated a no-host dinner would be held in honor of Commander and Mrs. Golden on Saturday night, September 12, participated in by Posts 229 and 152 of San Francisco, as well as Peninsula Post 688.

Commander Katz extends an invitation to residents of San Francisco and the Peninsula to join with Peninsula Post 688 in celebrating its fifth anniversary. Refreshments will be served and a fine program has been planned.

HANOVER STREET YOUNGSTER HURT IN BIKE MISHAP

Johnny Madonich, 10, 1118 Hanover street, required six stitches in the palm of his hand after crashing into a telephone pole with his bicycle and falling with a case of empty soda water bottles which broke.

Officer Charles Munday took the boy to Junipero Serra hospital at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday along with his mother, and brought them home after the accident.

WORKERS for the Doelger Corporation have removed the infamous "hump" blocking South Mayfair avenue and are pictured dumping dirt in the street. Pavement will be put in within the next week, according to City Engineer Otis Calhoun. The link has been graded and curbs and gutters have been installed.

LOW TAX RATE SHOULD CONTINUE!

Daly City councilmen, taking more command in the absence of a city manager, adopted a new fiscal budget, which, though $150,000 higher than last year, is to be financed by a lower property tax rate.

The council hacked the rate from 92 cents per $100 valuation to 90 cents. This is welcome relief to homeowners and a praiseworthy accomplishment considering that taxes everywhere seldom go down and most of the time get out of hand.

Sales tax, of course, which passed the vote of the people early this year, is the major factor that enabled the council to reduce the tax rate and still go forward with a vigorous capital improvements program.

This "blessing" of sales tax should be—and is—a guarantee to Daly City residents that the line can be held on taxes and that the community can yet go full speed ahead in providing adequate services and facilities for its populace of almost 40,000.

Maintaining a low tax rate in budgets yet to come should continue to be a foremost objective.

'Informal Approach' Gives Adults More Incentive In Night School

The "informal approach" to adult education introduced last year with success in the Jefferson Adult School makes it possible for students to enter class at any time after September 14, Director Louis J. Martin said today.

The "informal approach" method allows adults to enroll in classes such as Typing, Shorthand and other classes regardless of whether adults are beginners or advanced students. The Learn-to-Swim class, slated for opening on September 23, follows this pattern of instruction. When a student is ready and has mastered certain skills, he is moved up to a more advanced group with a different instructor.

Many adult students are returning to night school in order to finish work required for a diploma. Graduation from the Jefferson Adult School is based on the satisfactory completion of 150 semester units of high school work, exclusive of Physical Education. A semester unit is based on number of hours of attendance. Minimum requirements for the diploma are English, 30 units; U.S. History, 10 units; Civics, 5 units; Science, 10 units; and 10 units of Mathematics. The balance of 85 units may be taken in elective subjects. Those interested in completing their high school work should consult Director Louis J. Martin before enrolling or call PL 5-1162 for additional information.

The following subjects will be offered to students who are working toward their diploma. U. S. History, Civics, English Fundamentals and Literature, all levels of Functional Math and General Science.

Many other courses are open to adults. Brochures are available by request. Call PL 5-1162 for more information.

Scheidt Undergoes Fort Ord Training

Robert S. Scheidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter E. Scheidt, 187 Winchester street, is undergoing basic training at Fort Ord, California. He graduated from Jefferson High School in 1954 and worked as a musician before entering the service.

Scheidt, 23, entered the army on August 3 and is currently undergoing the first cycle of basic Infantry training in the Infantry Training Center. The eight-week training program consists of courses in troop information, general military subjects, tactical training and instruction.

Mongan Starts Sixth Year As Jeff Principal

Scholarly and understanding John Mongan, principal of Daly City's Jefferson High School since 1954, is a pioneer as far as residents of the district are concerned.

The native San Franciscan, whose brother, Martin, is the city clerk of SF, began his teaching here in 1937 at Jefferson as a social studies teacher and coach, his second year in the profession. He taught at Kingsburg High in the San Joaquin Valley area in 1936.

World War II found John a gunnery officer in the South Pacific and Alaska combat zones.

Upon his return to the civilian ranks, Mongan was appointed Jeff's first dean of boys and attendance officer. In 1951 he stepped up to vice principal, holding this job for three years before then-Superintendent Stanford Hannah appointed him Jefferson head man.

Mongan is a graduate of San Francisco's Lowell High and the University of California. He has done extensive graduate work at Stanford and Columbia universities.

'Miss SM County' Chosen Maiden At State Fair

Elaine Katherine French, 18-year-old Miss San Mateo County, was chosen a Maiden of California last Sunday at the Maid of California Beauty Pageant at the California State.. Fair.. and.. Exposition, which opened Wednesday for a 12-day run.

Elaine, a pretty ash blonde who graduated last year from South San Francisco High School and now is enrolled at the University of California, sighed, "It's a mighty wonderful feeling to be chosen one of California's prettiest girls." She was selected one of the 11 finalists in a beauty competition covering 48 counties.

Asked how she happened to enter the contest, Elaine replied, "I heard the girls at school talking about it and so I decided to enter the local competition, and here I am."

A shapely 37-24-36 the new Maiden stands 5 feet 5 inches tall and weighs in at an even 120 pounds. Her ultimate desire is to become a linguist.

Along with ten other finalists Elaine will receive a $100 U.S. Savings bond. The Maid of California has already been chosen, but her name is known only to the judges and will not be revealed until later this week.

The Maid will be officially crowned Maid of California by Governor Edmund G. Brown. She will receive a $1000 U.S. Savings Bond and a $500 wardrobe.

Lenore Kramer Graduates From Smith College

Lenore Kramer, 232 Willits street, Daly City, was among 45 students who received the degree of master of social science at the close of the summer session of the Smith College School for Social Work last Tuesday in Northampton, Massachusetts.

The school, a graduate professional school established on a permanent basis in 1919, awards the degree of master of social science upon the fulfillment of three summer sessions of academic work on the Smith College campus and two intervening winter sessions of carefully supervised field work in one of the cooperating clinics and agencies affiliated with the school.

The school, of which Howard J. Parad is director, celebrated its fortieth anniversary this summer. It has over 1700 alumnae in casework agencies of all kinds and in clinics and hospitals throughout the United States and in foreign countries.

A graduate of the University of California (Berkeley), Miss Kramer has accepted a position with the Probation Department of San Mateo County.

DC-Colma Lions Expect District Governor Marks

Daly City-Colma Lions club members heard a speech by Roy Arneson, chairman of the membership and retention committee, Wednesday at Val's Redwood Room.

Arneson, Deputy District Governor last year, spoke on his present duties of membership and retention.

On September 14, the Lions will hold a board of directors meeting.

On September 16, District Governor Ray Marks will make his official visit to the club at Val's. This is one of 64 clubs Marks visits during the year along with his other duties.

ARRESTING sight, for sure, but Daly City Police Sgt. Henry Sundermann is detaining shapely Ladona Moir only because she knows the full scoop on the annual Police Officers' Ball on September 12 at Bay Meadows clubhouse. Miss Moir is queen of the event, proceeds of which benefit relatives of deceased Peninsula policemen. Tickets may be purchased from any law enforcement officer here.

The Town Record

By ROY HURLBERT

Our sympathies go to the newly hired Jefferson High School teacher who last week hit and killed a jaywalking pedestrian while driving in SF's Bayview district.

The Daly City instructor wasn't at fault. But it still hurts the conscience.

* * * *

Westlake parents, whose high schoolers are privileged to attend many-splendoured Westmoor, are still grumpy about the windy locale of the $3.5 million plant.

In picking the site, the old school board years ago didn't give the weather a second thought, we guess.

It's a wonder Westmoor athletes ever get in shape what with the fog and knockdown breezes from the nearby Pacific.

* * * *

Councilman Joe Verducci, entering his 25th year of coaching this fall, takes his SF State College gridders to San Quentin on September 12.

The convicts, whose team plays all its games at home (wonder why), never root for their own squad.

Verducci says he likes this captive audience. The prison footballers play a good brand of ball, too. Their first string players have been around a long time.

* * * *

In case you didn't know, Daly City and South San Francisco are neck-and-neck for population. South City should take the lead again come census time next year.

* * * *

DC Councilmen feel that to get a "qualified" man to fill the city manager vacancy, the price per annum will have to start at $15,000 a year.

George Watts, last occupant of the Big Chair at City Hall, was salaried at about $13,600 plus expense account.

Sample of prices paid city managers in nearby burgs shows that Eugene Aiello in South City gets $15,000, the San Bruno CM is paid $14,000, Pacifica pays Karl Baldwin $10,200, the San Carlos rate is $10,400, while San Mateo's Art Sullivan collects almost $21,000 in a city of 65,000.

Dan Andersen, former city administrator of Daly City (prior to 1955) is city manager of San Rafael. His $12,500 wage recently was increased after two years on the job.

* * * *

Question of the week:

What ever happened to the charter study movement championed by the city council last spring?

* * * *

City attorney Paul Hupf, in charge of municipal management until a new professional is landed, feels there's a great need to examine Daly City water revenues and how they are budgeted. Also that the council should do its best to woo into the municipality certain hunks of the undeveloped Crocker Estate.

There's room aplenty on the Crocker land for industry and hundreds of homes. The city that annexes this property will be much better off tax-wise.

* * * *

Some big changes in key city jobs may be in the offing when the council gets its survey on municipal positions back from the state.

A few Indians have been elevated to Chiefs—by all sorts of maneuverings—and most of the council feel some repercussions are in order. Big ones!

Holy Angels' Teenagers To Wash Cars In Fund-Raising Endeavor

By Adriano Delfino

Know how you can spend a lazy Sunday and still drive to work the following day with a gleaming limousine? There's no trick to it, says George Perata, of 74 Station avenue, Daly City.

President of the Holy Angels Teen Club, George has announced a car wash to be conducted by 25 stalwart members of his club, on Saturday, September 5, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Scene of this project will be the parking lot behind the church rectory on San Pedro Road, Colma. Rates will be a dollar per car, with all proceeds going to the club treasury.

Holy Angels Teen Club, one of the more active youth organizations in the area, has been assigned a booth of its own during Holy Angels' Fall Festival "under the big top". This year's Festival will be held for four days, beginning Thursday, September 24, and culminating Sunday, September 27, with a sumptuous family dinner featuring ham 'n trimmings.

The teenagers' booth at the Festival will feature sporting goods, cosmetics, costume jewelry, stuffed dolls, and assorted gift items for young, old and in-between. Saturday's car wash project will also help finance purchases for the teenage booth at the Festival, young Perata explained.

Broadmoor Police Chief Urges All-Out Campaign On Mosquitoes

Broadmoor is being pestered by a "mild mosquito menace," says Police Chief Ray Savage, and it's because a few careless residents are contributing to the problem.

Homeowners in the northwest section of Broadmoor complained about the increase in mosquitoes a few weeks ago to the San Mateo County Health Department. Inspectors from that agency quickly investigated particularly the Larchmont-MacArthur drive area of Broadmoor with Savage and his men. They found that the majority of mosquitoes were breeding in several catch basins (storm drains) in the streets which had become clogged and stagnated with decomposed lawn clippings and other household debris.

After cleaning up the mess, the county was again called by residents who said the mosquitoes were back again in "full squadron" strength.

Savage said warnings have been issued to several property owners suspected of deliberately disposing of lawn clippings and debris in the uncovered catch basins. His patrols are making periodic checks of the storm drain areas to apprehend anyone found dumping debris into them.

Savage said that small amounts of stagnant water can produce hundreds of mosquitoes.

"Each property owner can help," he added, "by inspecting his own premises for water sources that might be producing secondary mosquito infestations."

Philip A. Duffy, vector control specialist of the county health department said residents should check old tin cans, watering cans, saucers under potted plants, old tires, clogged roof gutters, bird baths, over irrigated lawns, drain ditches and water standing under homes or in basements due to defective pumbing and seepage.

"Most effective method of stamping out mosquitoes," continued Duffy, "is by emptying, filling or sealing off the unnecessary water sources, stocking pools or ponds with mosquito-eating fish, or even by treating water with an insecticide when other measures are impractical."

Morrisette Is Appointed To WSIA Board

Two new directors have been appointed to the board of the Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association.

Virgil P. Anderson, 88 Castleton avenue, who was formerly on the board and resigned due to out-of-town business commitments, is back as a director. He replaces William Silver who moved out of Daly City.

William Morrisette, 173 Skyline drive, has been appointed architectural director for M. A. McLean who resigned due to Stanford University night school obligations.

EVERY DAY IS SPRING CLEANING

Broom Costing $10,000 Keeps Daly City Clean

By Lou Lucia

Jack Callan has the unique distinction of having a $10,000 broom.

Of course the broom is connected to the new Daly City street sweeper which Callan lavishes praise on.

The new sweeper has the conveniences of a modern auto. With power steering, power brakes, a heater and fan it is a street man's dream. Callan employee with the longest time in the city's street department with 20 years service, also likes the rubber inserts at the bottom of the sweeper which prevent the machine from hitting man hole covers as the old machine did.

When Callan starts his cleaning it isn't spring. It isn't even early enough for passers-by to be passing by. He starts on his rounds at 4 a.m. and finally settles the machine back into its groove at the Citrus and Niantic storage building at noon.

He works Tuesday through Saturday, leaving the Monday clean-up to another man. Callan, 196 Werner avenue, says, "The children always give me the most trouble, not in themselves but I'm always afraid one day they will be grabbed by one of the sweeper's brushes as they run alongside."

The old street sweeper, not glass enclosed like the newer model, is used to clean traffic islands as it has dual control (two steering wheels).

Sweeper Callan's territory includes all of Daly City. He states the machine will pick up empty cans that are strewn about but he must get out of the cab to lift wood or rocks.

A part of Callan's job is to grease and wash the machine each day in order to keep the bearings in working condition.

At one time Callan was the only member of the street department. He had to fix streets and sidewalks along with the "toothbrush combing" of the city. He recalls the first machines he used here were constantly in trouble as the long brushes would catch fire. "We always carried a bucket of water with us," he said.

Callan calls the Crocker tract his most troublesome job. On the other hand he praised the cleanliness of Westlake.

"Spring cleaning" comes almost each day of the year for Jack. At home, it's another matter!

DALY CITY Garden Clubbers Clair M. Yohn (left) and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marquez examine scrapbooks of the "Junior Gardeners," a group of brownies who are the youngest members of the adult organization. The club presents its annual flower show at DC War Memorial Building on Sunday, September 13, from 1 to 9 p.m., admission free. Daly City's municipal band, led by George Brenner, will play a concert on the front lawn of the big community center to highlight the occasion.

EQUIPPED so efficiently it even has power steering and power brakes, the city's new $10,000 street sweeper returns to its home base at Citrus and Niantic avenues. Driver Jack Callan is the oldest Daly City employee in the public works street department in time of service, having driven machines for more than 20 years. THE RECORD photo

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION PRESCRIBES COURSE OF STUDY

The San Mateo County Board of Education prescribes and enforces the Course of Study for each grade of the elementary schools. The County Course of Study includes all the subjects required by state law and adds science as an additional requirement.

The Laguna Salada elementary schools in Pacifica are operated in accordance with state requirements that at least 50% of school hours be devoted to teaching the basic skills in grades 1 through 6; and that in grades 7 and 8 not less than 600 minutes per week be devoted to teaching these skills.

The state law further requires that there be at least twenty minutes of recess daily, and that children in grades one, two and three have a recess every hour.

Frederick E. Lucas, Laguna Salada Superintendent, states that the school board and the professional school staff have agreed that local schools shall strive:

To develop to the fullest extent the intellectual ability of each student. This shall be achieved by emphasis on the fundamental academic subjects. These subjects include: Language — reading, writing, composition, spelling, speaking, and grammar; Arithmetic — fundamentals and problem solving; Social Studies — history, geography, and civics; Science.

To help all students to grow mentally, emotionally, socially, and physically. This is achieved by having teachers who are alert to ways in which these growth areas may be included in the school program.

To provide a variety of lesson each student. With skilled teaching, each student is expected to move as quickly as he is able through logical sequences of learning.

To help each student realize the value of learning. Each student will be encouraged to learn effectively by developing desirable study habits which will increase his academic progress.

To provide experiences to help each student learn to think. This is to be achieved by aiding the student in finding how to solve problems.

To provide experiences for students to learn to compete with others in a fair manner. This includes healthy classroom competition and good sportsmanship. These are reached by having schools in which the basic ideals of our country are taught by practice.

Stanford Grad Glenn South Heads Westmoor

Glenn E. South, embarking on his fourth year as principal of Daly City's Westmoor High School, has been with Jefferson Union High School District since 1942 when he made his teaching debut in social studies and physical education at Jefferson High.

A native of Redding, California, Glenn is a graduate of Stanford University and needs only a few units to qualify for his doctorate degree in education. His salary as principal is $13,485 a year.

During World War II, South left Jefferson High to serve in the Army Air Corps as a bombardier officer in combat.

He returned to Jefferson in 1946 and resumed the same teaching assignments. In 1951 he was named dean of boys and three years later was appointed vice principal under Jeff's present principal, John Mongan.

South was awarded the Westmoor principalship early in 1956. The new school's first students shared the Jefferson High plant that year with Jefferson students on a double session schedule.

Glenn and his family have their home in Millbrae.

Answers To Vets' Queries

Q—I am a veteran of World War II and I never used my GI loan privilege. Someone told me the other day that the time for applying for a loan is running short. How much time do I have in which to apply?

A—World War II veterans have until July 25, 1960 to apply for GI loans, and up to a year after that to close the deal.

Q—I'm confused about the term "Korea Veteran." What are the official time limits that determine whether or not a former member of the armed forces is considered to be a veteran of the Korean Conflict?

A—The Korean Conflict, by official definition, extends from June 27, 1950 to January 31, 1955. Any veteran with all or part of his services between these two dates is considered a Korean veteran.

Q—As a veteran with a service-connected disability rated 50 percent I have been receiving extra compensation for a dependent daughter. Recently she passed 18. Was I supposed to report this to VA?

A—Yes. As soon as your daughter reached age 18 she was no longer legally a dependent. VA is not permitted to pay you extra compensation for her, and money received for her after age 18 must be returned.

Q—I'm thinking of converting from my GI term insurance to a permanent plan. How many permanent plans are there to choose among?

A—There are six permanent GI insurance plans: Ordinary Life, 20-Year Payment, 30-Year Payment, 20-Year Endowment, Endowment at Age 60, Endowment at Age 65. You may convert to any one of these plans, or a combination of them. Details at any VA Office.

ED MORGAN BEGINS FOURTH YEAR AS HIGH SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

Forty-six-year-old Edward D. Morgan is entering his fourth year as superintendent of the Daly City-headquartered Jefferson Union High School District.

The $17,000-a-year chief came here in 1956 after serving as superintendent of both the elementary and high school districts in Dinuba, California.

Morgan, who resides at 123 Garden Lane in Colma, was born in New Jersey. He attended elementary school in the Chicago area, then moved with his parents to the West Coast where he was graduated from Alameda High.

He received his collegiate education at San Francisco State College and earned his general secondary teaching credential at University of California in Berkeley.

His first teaching duties were as English and physical education instructor and coach at Oakdale High. In 1939 he was named dean of boys and vice principal at that San Joaquin Valley school.

Two years later, Morgan moved to Williams, Colusa County, California, where he was principal and high school district superintendent.

Four years of duty in the Navy during World War II found him serving as a deck officer on Atlantic Fleet duty and director of the Navy's V-12 officer training program at Ohio State University with the rank of lieutenant.

Following his discharge, Morgan returned to University of California and completed all units necessary to make him eligible for exams leading to a doctorate degree.

He was appointed superintendent of the Dinuba Joint Union High School District in 1946, taking over the superintendency of both school districts there five years later.

Morgan succeeded Stanford Hannah as high school superintendent here. His performance has been so exceptional here that the school board twice granted him pay raises and new contracts.

Approximately 3000 students, Jefferson and Westmoor, come under the supervision and direction of Morgan and the elected board of trustees. The Oceana and Terra Nova high schools, to be constructed in Pacifica and due to open in 1961, will house beginning enrollments of approximately 900 students.

The high school district accommodates students from Daly City, Pacifica, Colma, and the unincorporated communities of Broadmoor, Bayshore and Brisbane.

SAFETY COUNCIL URGES TEENERS TO TAKE DRIVER EDUCATION

How times change . . . It wasn't too long ago that kids walked—or, if they were lucky, rode a bike—to school each day. Some of our parents even rode horseback to school.

Those days, the distance most children had to cover was at least a mile, often more—and regardless of the weather.

Those days are gone forever. Many students still walk to school, but increasing numbers drive.

The problem of schools in bygone days was to get enough racks for students' bicycles. Today, high schools often must build parking lots to hold the mass of motor vehicles their students arrive in.

If schools don't construct parking lots, students have to leave their cars around the school building—thereby creating a traffic hazard for motorists and pedestrians.

The motor vehicle, then, can be quite a headache to schools.

Nearly six million teenagers—many of them students—drive cars. They make up about 1 out of 14 of the nation's 80 million licensed drivers.

The teenage driver is involved in 1 out of 10 fatal auto accidents. Main fault of teens, according to the National Safety Council: a tendency to speed.

"Lots of teenagers drive to school today," the Council said. "And, unfortunately, young people too often get on urge to show off around their friends. The result? More accidents involving teenagers."

Solution to the problem? "One way to bring down the accident toll among young drivers is for every student to take driver education," the Council said. It urged adherence to this driving code:

(1) Be proud of young driving. Do your part to prove teenagers can be the best drivers on the road.

(2) Smooth driving is the mark of a pro. Don't make jackrabbit starts, squealing turns and fast stops.

(3) Be courteous at the wheel. Give the other fellow a break.

(4) Don't try to get ahead of the other driver, or to even the score if he's inconsiderate.

(5) Speed is a killer. Adjust it to road, weather and traffic conditions.

(6) Keep both hands on the wheel and your eyes on the road.

(7) Obey the law. Stop at stop signs.

(8) Keep your car in top condition. Give special attention to tires, lights and breaks.

(9) Don't be a bumper chaser. Keep a safe distance between you and the car ahead.

Parents Must Aid In Assuring Fire Safe Schooling

There are 39 million reasons for making sure our schools are fire-safe: the nation's grade and high school students.

Making sure students stay safe is a job for parents, as well as school officials.

"Parents," the National Safety Council said, "are as responsible for protecting their youngsters at school as are school officials.

"Through parent and civic organizations, mothers and fathers can press for fire-safe schools for their children.

"It has been said that fire safety does not necessarily cost a lot of money. It does, however, take intelligent thought and action — before a fire starts!"

Fire safety may not involve considerable expense, but a lack of fire safety certainly does. In 1957, for example, the 4300 school and college fires in the United States cost the nation more than 30 million dollars.

What can you do to bring about adequate fire safety in your child's school? Here are some National Safety Council suggestions: Parents should teach fire safety as a part of daily living until it becomes second nature. Schools should give fire safety instruction throughout the year, and should integrate it with such studies as science, arts and crafts, health education and social studies, which lend themselves well to teaching fire safety.

Responsibilities of the school administrator, according to the Council, consist of:

1. Conducting regular inspections and evacuation drills, and ensuring construction of fire-safe schools.

2. Having sprinkler systems, automatic alarm and detection equipment which can be activated at several points of the school building, and, if necessary, can be activated with an auxiliary source of power.

3. Regularly instructing teachers in fire and emergency procedures, fire prevention practices, first aid and panic control.

When you adopt a child through a licensed adoption agency, you have the assurance that the child you receive has been studied to be sure it's right for you. Your home is studied, too, for the child's protection. United Crusade funds help to support these adoptive services that protect children and families.

MORE COLOR, LARGER TYPE

'MODERN SCHOOL TEXTBOOKS TAKE 'THE PAIN OUT OF LEARNING'

Today's school textbooks, splashed in vivid colors and printed in large, attractive type, are helping take the pain out of learning.

"In years past," says Leo Gans, editor-in-chief of American Book company, "learning—to be good—had to be difficult and unpleasant. It's different today."

Although the first thing noticed in comparing textbooks of today with those of 30, 40 or 50 years ago is the use of color and larger type, there is another difference.

There has been a distinct change in the style of writing—less formal today, more readable, and designed, in Gans' words, to "incite and maintain interest."

Modern textbooks often teach more than what the student sees before him. For example, Gans readers carry moral and spiritual development messages. "They don't moralize directly. They do teach reading, but not under the typical reading approach."

Some schools, however, still prefer the less modern approach. The famous McGuffey's Second Reader first printed in 1879, still is in print.

Two developments in textbooks since World War II, Gans says, have been the increased use of color, and in furnishing more and more elaborate teaching manuals so teachers will have before them the answers to almost any questions students may ask.

"Color is a customer demand," Gans adds. Some new college textbooks have colored illustration—something almost unheard of a decade ago.

Here is an example of a "modern" textbook compared with its counterpart of an earlier day—"How Plants Grow," first published in 1858 and used in schools until 1937, and "Adventures in Science," a new book, both for the junior high school grades:

The cover of the new book is a drawing of a portion of outer space. The first page shows a rocket blasting off. Later the book, after dealing with rocketry, electricity and other basic areas of science, hits the more conventional fields of botany and biology.

The older books has flat, line drawings of various botanical examples, often as many as a dozen on a page. Type size in the new text is large and clear, that in the older book small and difficult to read.

The older book had a life of 79 years. The new book, Gans says, will be out of date in a much shorter time. "The life of books, singly or in series, is being shortened by new knowledge and new demands." The current book probably will be ready for minor revision in two or three years.

NOTRE DAME COLLEGE TELLS SIGNUP DATES

Classes for the fall semester will open at College of Notre Dame in Belmont on Wednesday, September 16, following a five-day registration and testing program beginning on September 11.

Students at the College will find much development in the field of education, including Notre Dame Elementary School, the demonstration unit in that department. In the language department a greatly enlarged laboratory area will benefit the teaching of modern languages by the oral-aural approach.

Freshmen registration will be held on September 11. Other classmen will register on September 15.

Five Statistics For All Parents To Keep In Mind

Consider, as back-to-school time approaches, these five facts from the National Safety Council:

1. Accidents are the leading cause of death to school-age children.

2. More than 2500 children 5-14 years of age are killed annually in accidents involving motor vehicles.

3. More than 1100 of those children are pedestrians.

4. A total of 150,000 children in the 5-14 age group are injured each year in motor vehicle mishaps.

5. One out of 12 students injured in a "school-jurisdiction" accident is on his way to or from school.

That's the problem — and back - to - school time is when the problem reaches its peak, according to the National Safety Council.

Solution to the problem?

"Parents," the Council said, "should teach their children to stop, look and listen before crossing streets or railroad tracks. It's not old-fashioned to be safe.

"Parents also should set a proper example. Don't expect a child to obey a rule you violate."

Some Council suggestions to motorists as the nation's schools prepare to open their doors:

1. Keep your car in good condition. Pay special attention to tires and brakes. You can't blame the garage man if your car doesn't stop quickly enough in an emergency.

2. Drive slowly near schools. And slow down where children are walking or playing.

3. Expect the unexpected where children are walking or playing.

3. Expect the unexpected from children. Most of them get hurt running from behind parked cars or crossing in the middle of an intersection.

Our Lady Of Perpetual Help Moms To Present 'Welcome Breakfast'

By ISABELLE LIBERTI

The first day of school is often a painful day for mothers sending their young hopefuls off for the first time. For many, having coped with youthful exuberance all summer, it's a day of relief. In either case there is a feeling of let-down after seeing that young Jimmy or Jane is in the proper room and the last tears are dried.

The Mothers' Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help School recognizes that at this point a good cup of coffee and a friendly chat are most welcome and so for years have had a "Welcome Breakfast" on the first day of school, which will be September 8, for Our Lady of Perpetual Help School. The breakfast will be served in the school auditorium.

Our Lady of Perpetual School is taught by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Orange, with Sister Marie Louise, principal of the school. The Mothers' Club, which recently celebrated its 20th year, is a thriving and active organization which works for the benefit of the school and parish. Mrs. Peter Lofrano, who was recently elected as president of the club, will take up her gavel for the first meeting of the new term on September 10 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium, 80 Wellington avenue. Ladies of the parish are extending a most cordial invitation to join this group. The only qualification necessary for membership is a sincere interest in the children and the school.

Refreshments will be served after the regular meeting. Officers of the club, annual chairmen and members of the board of directors will act as hostesses.

Displays To Interest Every Woman Make State Fair A 'Must' Visit

It will be "a woman's world" at the California State Fair, September 2-13, when viewed from the standpoint of the homemaker, career girl or housewife.

Party Fashions, International Cookery, "Court of the World," Fall Fashion Review, The Street of Little Shops, "Food Comes First" and other intriguing features will be included in the Woman's Building attractions.

"Displays to interest every woman have been arranged," says Mrs. Florence M. Doe of Visalia, State Fair Director in charge of woman's activities. "They range from home canned fruit to crocheted bedspreads, from exotic international cooking to interior decorating."

For imaginative housekeepers and bachelor girls the "Party Fashions" display will present international table settings, new ideas for party table arrangements, interior decoration, and patio and garden displays.

"International Cookery" will feature food ideas from Italy, Japan, Sweden, the United Kingdom, the Phillipines, Belgium, and the Benelux countries. Daily at 1, 3 and 5 p.m. culinary experts will prepare foreign dishes that demonstrate cooking techniques and typical foods. Each visitor will be eligible to win these products by filling out questionnaires for the manufacturer and submitting opinions.

On Place du Petit Magazin, the "Street of Little Shops," visitors may stroll by miniature shop windows and look at the latest fall lines for home and hemline.

The Consumer Reaction Council will be on hand to record the reactions of the public to various food samples presented. Opinions as to texture, taste and aroma will be recorded. Winning products will receive gold medals.

More demonstration food will be displayed in the "Food Comes First" section where the housewife and her family can get advice on nutrition, cooking, diets, and balancing of meals. In conjunction, the National Livestock and Meat Board will show whole carcasses of beef, pork and lamb.

Old-fashioned cooking has its place in the building, too. Home canned fruits, pickles and relishes, baked goods, candy, jams and preserves will line the walls in the Home Economics section along with handicraft items of needlework, China, sewing and rugs.

"San Francisco may be my lucky city," says Fleck, "and I think now I'm ready to make a serious bid to be among the leading money winners."

Joining Fleck and Bolt in the Golden Gate fold were Jim Ferrerier, a tournament veteran, and Paul Runyan of La Jolla, Calif.

Harding Park assistant Virgirl Shreeve was the first local entry, followed by Bay Area amateur Tom Dixon.

JEFF, WESTMOOR BEGIN FOOTBALL

By LOU LUCIA

Matisi Expects Improvement

Westmoor High's Rams improved 100 per cent in their second season in the Peninsula League by winning two games and Coach Pete Matisi looks toward another 100 per cent improvement this year.

Matisi's record at Westmoor for the two years is 3-14, but the figure is not an indication of his worth as he has had to work with sophomore and junior ballplayers of little experience.

Fifty-five hopefuls turned out Tuesday for the first practice with 13 of them returning lettermen. Husky Tom McHugh, Tom Dake and Webb Parker will man backfield positions for the Rams behind the starting quarterback who will either be Jim Heick or Bernie McCabe.

Center is Jim Wade and tackle candidates are Andy Saranchock, Larry Siegal and Bob Porras. Ends are Chris Hanson and Ron Petrocchi. Gone from the scene is tackle Jerry Evans, a 205 pounder who Coach Matisi was relying on to furnish some heavy tackling and blocking. Evans, biggest man on the squad, transferred to a Fresno school.

Due to the number of returning boys and their experience Matisi looks forward to a much better ball club.

Practice games for the Rams are against Woodside on October 2 and Menlo-Atherton on October 9. Both games start at 3:15 p.m. at the Westmoor football field. Full schedule will be released next week.

Past The Diaper Stage, Men

BOURNELLIS' 'LITTLE KIDS' SMASH COCKY SAN MATEANS

San Mateo Independents were taught a lesson in humility last Saturday.

Complaining before the game that their manager booked a game with "little kids," they later walked of the field with a 7-1 loss handed them by the Daly City Drugs nine.

A five-run fifth inning with Barry Krohn accounting for two of the runs with a smash over third base was the insuring stamp. Krohn walked seven and struck out five but managed to emerge from the game without an earned run being scored against him.

A "sure hit" by Wolfe was turned into a sixth inning double play by the Drugs' Dan Luciano when he made an over-the-shoulder catch and tossed out a runner who had failed to tag up at third base. Wolfe apparently "barked up the wrong tree" by sending his fly to centerfield.

In the last inning with a runner on first, Krohn again survived when Skipper Crudo snared a line drive and turned it into a twin killing. Terry Christman's two doubles with one run batted in, Bruce Usher with a triple scoring two tallies and Craig Schwartz' run-scoring hit accounted for the major damage.

Dante's New Pisa took advantage of three Drugs miscues in the third inning to score a 4-3 victory Sunday at Balboa Park.

Jack Fuertes socked the game-winning blow over second base in the sixth inning, pushing Tony Montalbo, who had tripled, across the plate.

Tom Bournellis' youngsters picked up three runs in the second when Christman walked and slid into second before Dante's infielders could get the force-out on Schwartz' bunt. Both scored on Eddie Walthard's dropped fly ball in left field. A Dickie Schultz sacrifice scored Walthard but he would have been able to romp across the plate on Sonny Stoller's succeeding clothesline single.

Stan Montalbo was the winning pitcher, giving up five hits while walking and striking out three.

Daly City Drugs will hold a dinner for the team and their parents at Broadmoor Community Center on Saturday, September 12. Trophies will go to the players, and credit for bringing two titles home to Bournellis will go to Lowell Creighton and Harry Krohn, the managers.

Water Ski Champ From Jamaica Is Visitor In Colma

Visiting the Daly City area this week with her mother from Jamaica is 15-year-old Jo Pinkston, holder of that republic's girls and women's water ski championships.

The talented youngster is spending a brief vacation here with her aunt, Mrs. Lillian Day, 743 Washington street, Colma.

Jo's father is employed by the Kaiser bauxite company in Jamaica.

Ralph's Cleaners, DC Drugs Tied For Top Softball Spot

The 1959 Summer Adult Softball League sponsored by Daly City's Department of Parks and Recreation reached the play-off stage last week.

Daly City Drugs and Ralph's Cleaners tied for first place and Sarto A. C. and William Lagomarsino & Company were deadlocked for third.

Daly City Drugs defeated Lagomarsino Company in a 2-1 pitching duel. Barney Sherman of the Drugs fashioned a neat three-hitter to lead his team into the finals. Gil Fontana drove in Harry Krohn, who had tripled, with a sacrifice fly for the winning run.

Ralph's Cleaners entered the finals as they picked up at least a hit an inning to beat Sarto A. C., 6-3. Four-hit pitching by Mike Clark and the speed of third baseman Rick Warne proved the downfall of a hustling Sarto club.

Warne stole three bases and scored two runs. Ralph's and Daly City Drugs met Tuesday but scores were not available at press time.

Midgets Will Duel In Tough 25-Mile Belmont Sweepstakes

The war between Offenhauser and Ford midgets resumes at Belmont Speedway this Saturday night, with top attraction of the eight event program being the 100-lap Belmont Sweepstakes.

Sanctioned by the Bay Cities Racing Association, means the 18 fastest qualifiers will compete in the 25-mile feature, with point leaders for the 1959 championship expected to battle for the heavy end of the $1000 guaranteed purse.

Five of the top ten pace setters are Peninsula drivers, with Los Altos' Dave Moses on top with 1052 points. Then comes '58 BCRA champ, Mike McGreevy, Oakland 982; Dee Hileman, Palo Alto, 901; Gene Gurney, Hayward, 810; John Baldwin, San Carlos, 764; Chuck Booth, Sacramento, 591; Norm Rapp, San Francisco, 588; Charles Lawlor, Belmont, 529; Tom Copp, San Bruno, 469, and Dick Deis, Fresno, 364.

Big threat for the NorCal pilots will be John Woods, Los Angeles, who beat Moses and Hileman at Sacramento Saturday night.

Time trials start at 7:30, with the trophy dash set for 8.30.

The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, a United Crusade agency, conducts a year-round program of research, medical care and therapy for patients, and medical education and lay information.

100-Lap Main Event Slated For Stock Cars

First 100-lap main event to be held for the new $99 value stock cars of the NASCAR Claiming Division will be at Belmont Speedway, Friday night, September 11, with 40 cars taking the green flag, track officials announced today.

Full program of heat races, trophy dash and semi-main will precede the century feature. More than 90 cars are expected to be entered.

Ten top drivers in championship points will have their positions set in the "straight-up" start 100-lapper and the other 30 cars get into the big race by placing in the first five in preliminaries.

In addition to the purse, to be figured at 40 per cent of the net gate, there will be trophies for first, second and third place finishers.

Double points in this event will mean 80 points for the winner and may shake up the point standings which have been dominated by Tom and Pat Dunne, San Francisco brothers, since the new division was launched ten weeks ago.

Tom Dunne added to his point lead last week by winning the 20-lap main. Tom now has 157 points, Pat Dunne 128, with Mel Kain, Oakland, third at 99.

In state championship points for the division, the Dunne brothers have about the same margin of lead, followed by Emil Zola, Pacifica, in third place.

With the ten-point leaders assured of starting places in the 100-lap special, this Friday night's main event will have a bittler battle by point contenders, officials predicted.

Some of the drivers not in the top ten but within striking distance are Pete Mufich, South San Francisco; Harry Davis, Pacifica; Jerry Steiner, Palo Alto; Don Myers and Don Brown, both of San Jose; George Browne and Bill Ercolini, both of San Francisco; Eddie Mann, San Mateo, and Herb Kaeding, Campbell.

'Little' Little All-American To Again Lead Gators

Last year Coach Joe Verducci had only one returning letterman, Jim Sochor, everybody's All-All and a Little All-American selectee, and won the Far Western Conference football crown for the fifth time in seven years since he took over as San Francisco State's varsity coach.

This year he will be faced with getting more beef in the forward wall as the average weight thus far is but 185 pounds. The backfield's 155-pound average is not of the heft to bull-doze opponents, either.

Newest innovation thus far is the fact the Gators will play home games on Saturday afternoons at 2 at Cox Stadium.

Sochor, 5-8 and 148 pounds, was aptly named to the Little All-American post at quarterback, but in playing performance he stands head and shoulders above opposing quarterbacks.

As the top Gator passer, leading punter, outstanding kick-off specialist and best defensive back, Sochor will have to have another outstanding season—in this his final year—to pull Verducci's crew to the top rung.

Other returning lettermen in the backfield are: Quarterback Nick Alliotti, up from the JV's; quarterback Don Robben, a southpaw tosser and defensive stalwart; fullback Hank Marshall, another Little All-American, though in his case he tips 200 pound scales; fullback Eric Mackintosh and Pete Hesier; and halfbacks, Jesse Racines and Edgar Rollins, All Far Western Conference choices; Don Johnson, Bill Breslan, Errol Harris and Jim Catlett.

Returning linemen are: Centers, Dick Logan and Don Oldham; guards, Bob Sexton, a Little All-American; Allen Abraham and Ken Moore; tackles, Don Matle, Jim Palmer, a Little All-American, and Wes Atkins.

Ends will be Ford Joy, Stan Crouch and Jim Collopy.

The complete schedule follows:

September 12, San Quentin at San Quentin, 11 a.m.; September 19, Humboldt State at Cox Stadium, 2 p.m.; September 26, Cal Poly of Pomona at Cox Stadium, 2 p.m.; October 3, Long Beach State at Long Beach, 8 p.m.

October 10, Occidental at Los Angeles, 8 p.m.; October 17, University of Nevada at Reno, 2 p.m.; October 24, University of California Santa Barbara at Cox Stadium, 2 p.m.; University of California Davis at Cox Stadium, 2 p.m. homecoming game.

November 7, Sacramento State at Sacramento, 8 p.m.; and November 14, Chico State at Chico, 8 p.m.

KNOWS FOOTBALL, TOO

JESD Aide Shapiro Has Talent To Spare As Proud Family Man

The family of Dr. David Shapiro, business manager and assistant superintendent of Jefferson Elementary School District, shows a wide variety of skills.

Mrs. Betty Snyder Shapiro is a professional artist of note. Daughter Bobi, 17, wants to be a medical technician, and son Steve, 14, hopes to be a veterinarian.

Starting his fifth year in the district, the 47-year-old business manager has had 17 years experience in New Jersey ranging from instruction to department head, assistant principal and education coordinator to football coach and teacher of commercial subjects.

Shapiro received his B.A. degree from Temple University in Philadelphia along with being football captain there in his senior year and a member of the honor society.

He received his doctorate at Stanford University in January, 1958. His majors at Temple included accounting and business administration. Shapiro, a strapping 215 pounder, stands 6-2 and looks strong enough to be playing middle linebacker for the San Francisco 49ers.

He is a scoutmaster of the Hillsborough Boy Scouts and, no doubt, his favorite scout is his son. Both his children attend Burlingame High School and the Shapiro's live in that city.

United Crusade is called "Big Give" because one gift is apportioned among 263 different agencies. It's an important gift—because it helps to meet so many different needs. Make your donation big enough to last all year!

Thor-Able Missile Shown To Fairgoers

The 1959 California State Fair and Exposition will look like a Cape Canaveral launching pad this year as an Air Force Thor-Able missile is featured as part of the armed forces exhibit. The missile scheduled for the 12-day run of the fair is the same type that served as the first two stages used to hurl the 142-pound satellite of Explorer VI into orbit.

The 94-foot high Thor-Able will tower over even the tallest buildings on the fairgrounds.

Rodeo Competition Promises Excitement At State Fair

It's time for the California State Fair which runs this year from September 2 through 13, and for the rodeo of national prominence that will be staged the final four nights of the Fair.

Riders from all parts of the United States will take part in the rodeo competition which will have nearly a dozen events ranging from calf roping to steer wrestling and bareback riding, but the star performance of every rodeo is the saddle bronc riding.

It's the saddle broncs who draw the crowds and give them their money's worth. The saddle bronc is the most pampered of rodeo animals because he's the hardest to come by and the most valuable—he leads a life of ease.

Those ornery, ragtail specimens are judged not on looks or manner—just on how hard and high they can buck. The owners of the good ones sit around on winter nights bragging of their exploits.

Meanwhile, the bronc is comfortably bedded down, with nothing more to look forward to than eating, sleeping, and growing fatter and ornier.

When rodeo time rolls around, the big, rough and tough horses are fit as a fiddle, completely anti-social, and ready for the wars.

Rodeo bucking horses perform on an average of 25 times each season, for about eight or 10 seconds each time—that adds up to about four minutes work each year.

Sure, the bucking horse may get spurred during those few seconds a rider is on top of him, but that is more for showmanship on the part of the rider than anything else—sharp spurs are outlawed.

And to prove that bucking horses have the best life of all rodeo animals, and most animals in general, they live up to 30 years and more. Many of them buck in rodeos when they are nearly 25 years old.

Bow Tie, a bucking bronc owned by Andy Amsbaugh of Modesto, has not been ridden successfully more than 10 times in the past 20 seasons.

Some bucking horses were once saddle mounts who suddenly got mean or went sour. Some were just born that way.

One Sacramento area rodeo stock contractor is breeding bucking horses—and says he is developing a line which bucks just for the sheer pleasure of it.

PRIZES GALORE

Ed Guttke, Shirley Zatcoff Lead PAL Bowling League

By Leon Cohn

A merchandise prize list, incomparable with any other, is offered to the participants in the Daly City Police Athletic League bowling tournament now being held on Swanson's Westlake lanes.

The merchants and individuals of Daly City and the surrounding cities who believe in the workings of the PAL, have donated many valuable prizes.

Winners, and those high on the list, will have their choice of a selection that will make them think twice before deciding.

Among them is an electric 5 burner range and includes a center Grid'l-Shield for hot cakes and what-nots. Also, a large Stor-Mor freezer, electric washer and a glass lined heater.

If the above merchandise is not suitable they can have their pick of a stereo hi-fi, wrist watches for men and women, TV set, table Radio, $25 US Bonds, Pik-Nik cooler, sweaters, vases and many other prizes too numerous to mention.

The entry list passed the 1000 mark over the weekend and with squads coming from Sacramento, Stockton, Redwood City, San Mateo, Burlingame, San Carlos and San Francisco, the goal of 4000 entries is expected.

The bowling cost for the three game set-to is $2.75.

Fred Bertetta, Chairman of the PAL tourney, is very pleased the way the keglers have responded to the 3-6-9 strike frames. At an extra cost of fifty cents per game, if you strike in all three frames, you win a bottle of whiskey. Many have been winners and Johnny Swanson, the donor, is shaking his head.

Ed Guttke, a 143 average bowler, rolled his highest scratch series, a 622. And, adding a handicap of 114 pins for a 736 total tops the men's division. Ed hails from San Francisco and holds a 37 pin margin over Bob Loveridge, from Redwood City.

Shirley Zatcoff, nee Oster, added a 140 pin handicap to her 488 scratch series to lead the women's division with 628. In second place is Rose Marie Owens, whose last game of 141 left her 7 pins shy of the top spot.

The five leaders are as follows—

Men: Ed Guttke, 622-114—736; Bob Loveridge, 611-88—699; Ernest Kovacs, 573-104—677; Alfred Grescio, 602-68—670; Jack Colwell, 560-102—662.

Women: Shirley Zatcoff, 488-140—628; Rose Marie Owens, 533-88—621; Betty Cooper, 487-130—617; Verle illon, 542-74—616; Millie Belli, 457-150—607.

Bowling in the Late Nite Owl league, Doc Becraft had 165 for his first and second games. Hoping for a triplicate, Doc, making a spare in his last frame needed an eight count for another 165. But alas the pins wouldn't co-operate. Rolling short of the headpin, only 7 fell. Doc is wondering why the four pin didn't go down and just leave the 1-2 standing.
